RELIEF FOR FAMINE VICTIMS IN RUSSIA POSSIBLE WITHOUT ADDITIONAL DELAY

Soviet Reported to Have Agreed to All Conditions of Hoover
GUARANTEES OF SAFETY FOR RELIEF WORKERS
Director Brown Expected to Reach Riga Within Next Few Days

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—American relief for Russia's famine victims will be made possible without delay by complete acquiescence of the Soviet authorities in all conditions which may be described by this government's representatives, it was expected in official circles today.

The tone of the Soviet communication to Secretary Hoover made it evident the authorities will give guarantees for the safety of American relief workers and that they will interfere in no way with control or distribution of relief supplies sent into western Russia.

Under instructions from Secretary Hoover, Walter Brown director in Europe of the American relief administration, today was enroute to Riga to open negotiations with the Soviet officials. He is expected at Riga within a few days and if, by that time, all American prisoners are released and outside Russian territory, officials here believe nothing will arise to delay early inauguration of the relief plans.

1ST ALLEGED RUM RUNNER OF SEAS TOWED INTO PORT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The first alleged rum runner of the seas to be captured here was towed into port today by the revenue cutter Seneca and now lies anchored off Staten Island under the Seneca's guns. She is the schooner Henry L. Marshall, originally from Gloucester, Mass.

Her master claims that she has been transferred from American to British registry, but this far he has failed to prove it. Her capture was affected by an all-night hunt by the Seneca and other revenue craft.

After a considerable chase the alleged booze ship was overhauled just outside the three mile limit. Revenue authorities expressed the belief the vessel is the same that has mystified them for many months. They think she is the flying dutchman whose strange movements have been variously reported by numerous ships that have encountered her all the way between Bermuda and Atlantic coast ports.

Many Are Killed in Severe "Quake"

(International News Service)
MILAN, ITALY, Aug. 2.—Violent earthquake shocks were felt at Leghorn and vicinity today. Numerous deaths were caused at Bari by the collapse of the general postoffice building. Eight bodies were recovered within a short time and it was feared that others were under the debris. The greatest part of the population of Leghorn fled from the city and now is camping in the open field. The monetary damage was very heavy.

Tramp Frustrates Dynamite Plot

(International News Service)
DETROIT, MICH., Aug. 2.—An attempt to dynamite the Ford blast furnaces at River Rouge early today was frustrated by an unidentified tramp. The tramp was sleeping in the railroad yards near the Ford plant, heard three men discussing how to get into the place. He rushed to a police station and told his story. When police reached the scene the dynamiters had disappeared, leaving behind seven large sticks of dynamite, weighing about 15 pounds.

Woman's Premonition Saves Her Husband's Pay Day Receipts When She Puts Money Under the Bed

How a woman's premonition saved her husband, a popular employe of the Louisville and Nashville railroad company here, became known today, in most of the most remarkable burglary stories in the history of Albany. Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Forline, 318 Sherman street, were the principals in the strange case. Receiving his pay check last week, Mr. Forline went down town on "pay night" and among several other purchases, he bought a pair of trousers.

During the day Mrs. Forline had sent one of her husband's suits to the presser. Thus three pair of trousers occupy important roles in the unusual robbery. Possibly impressed by the presence of all three pairs of trousers in the room, just before Mr. and Mrs. Forline retired for the night, Mrs. Forline told her husband he should take his money out of his pocket and put it under his pillow to guard against robbery.

EMPLOYEES DECREE THAT ALL FLUFFY "DOLLS" MUST GO

(Written by MARGERY REX for the International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—"The dolls must go!"

Chicago bosses, long at bay, are now in a fine state of frenzy over feminine apparel.

Driven to protest by modern tendencies in feminine frocks, employers of office workers and saleswomen in the Western city decree that the too flashily dressed women must give up their positions.

One concern will have none about but-black, gray and brown clad damsels. Another inveighs against the "knee lengths." Transparent waists find disfavor elsewhere, also too thin stockings and too visible rouge.

But the outlook in the West cannot be altogether hopeful if we give heed to the lament of one Chicago employer, who says:

Some Slaves to Style.
"There are some slaves to style who never will give up their extreme dress."

The well-dressed, sensible business girl is by no means in the minority these days, but the young person with large ear-puffs, knee-length skirts over pale gray stockings, tremulous fringe everywhere and a blush that needs nothing but a coat of shellac to make it permanent is sufficiently in evidence to almost succeed in condemning all her toiling sisters.

But is fashion itself to blame? Most the women who works turn away from all that is stylish and becoming. Must she wear only the dull and sensible things?

She need not. She may be pleasing to the eye, yet be trim and modest in appearance. And she may find, by simplifying her clothes, a new way to attain good looks.

St. Tobey is offered by Mrs. Evelyn S. Tobey, who, as director of the Carroll Club at No. 120 Madison avenue, is in direct touch with hundreds of young working women members. She is also a member of the faculty of Teachers' College, where she lectures on textiles and clothing.

FOSTER HONORED BY ODD FELLOWS

S. W. Foster, of Decatur, a past grand patriarch, was elected by the Odd Fellows in convention at Birmingham yesterday, as grand representative to the sovereign grand lodge, which meets September 19 in Toronto, Canada.

Other officers named by the order are:

August Buerger, Mobile, grand patriarch; W. F. McCartney, Samson, grand high priest; J. W. Brady, Birmingham, grand senior warden; D. L. Steward, Mobile, grand junior warden; C. O. Jacobs, Birmingham, grand scribe; Charles W. Capps, Birmingham, grand treasurer; F. M. Nixon, Anniston, grand marshal; R. J. Davis, Blountville, grand sentinel; R. O. Rogers, Ardmore, grand deputy sentinel.

JR. ORDER TO MEET

Secretary Harlow, of the Albany Junior Order of American Mechanics, announces that the regular meeting of the organization will take place tonight at the Albany Odd Fellows hall on Second avenue.

After retiring Mrs. Forline continued to be worried by an apparent consciousness of danger and she got up and taking the trousers her husband had been wearing, the ones containing the money, he threw them under the bed.

Awakening with a severe headache about 4 o'clock the following morning, Mrs. Forline said she felt that she had been dreaming, for the premonition persistently warned her that all was not well. She got up and soon afterward discovered the absence of the trousers from the room.

During the night a burglar had entered the house and even into the bedroom where the couple was sleeping, and had taken both pairs of trousers in sight, overlooking the pair under the bed which contained quite a large amount of currency. A small amount of clothing was taken also.

"The overdressed and badly-dressed woman is not the result of style, but of bad style," declares Mrs. Tobey.

Through the pleasant reception room of the club house pass a steady line of young women on their way to lunch. Many stop for a word with Mrs. Tobey or make an appointment to talk over things later.

"It takes more time to care for the elaborate gown than to keep the simple one in good condition," the director says.

"The business girl needs that time for rest and recreation, two things that make for good looks."

"Fluffiness demands constant attention. It is doubly injurious when it not only deprives a girl of her business standing but also takes away her hours of play for its upkeep. Her own personal comfort ought to make her lay it aside."

"Often the office environment is not the one a girl is really born to enter. She belongs in a home. Her inherent ideas make her wish to be a very feminine woman; a wife and the head of a family."

"Circumstances decree otherwise. She is forced out to work and tries, perhaps unconsciously, to carry along these feminine ideas into the business world."

"She is criticized, condemned. But the answer to it all is 'Because she's a woman.'"

"I am always sorry for this overdressed, extreme-looking girl when I see or hear of her, for I know what tempted her to look that way."

"There are types of men, of course, who like the 'fluffies' about. There are hundreds of thousands of garments for sale that make a girl appear to be this type."

"But she must realize that if she attracts the type of man who likes the showy and shoddy she cannot also attract and win the kind of man she will want to marry later. She can't have both."

"But I am not saying, remember," Mrs. Tobey smiles, "that the business women shall not be good looking and well dressed."

LABOR UNIT HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The regular meeting of the Central Labor Union was held last night, with T. J. Martin presiding, H. C. Hutchison, the secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved.

Two interesting communications were received from the Executive Council of the A. F. of L. One of them dwelt at length on the question of employment and it was that local labor people in all cities and towns do all in their power to gain employment for all. Such public improvements as might be contemplated, were referred to as possible opportunities to put men to work.

The other was a resolution, in which the claims of union label goods were set forth, and the membership was asked to take the matter up with the home merchants.

Under the head of the good of the order, Messrs. McCluskey, Jones, Gentry, and Spain, made addresses. According to reports plans are being worked out for the coming Labor Day celebration on a large scale. The list of speakers for the occasion is expected to be given out soon.

LEWIS' TRIPLE WITH BASES FULL PULLS GAME FROM FIRE; TWINS WIN 9 TO 8

Fans Are Given Thrills Galore in the Contest Monday

BASE HIT SHOWER IN EIGHTH IS SUCCESSFUL

Shorty Tries Dick Merrill Stunt and Succeeds Very, Very Well.

Dick Merrill, of dime novel fame, generally waited until the final inning to knock ball games into the win column for his team. Shorty Lewis, local right gardener, is not so particular in choosing his inning. In that respect alone did they differ yesterday, when Shorty's three base clout, with three on, two down and two strikes on the batter, cleared the sacks in the eighth, permitting the Twins to nose out the Triplets 9 to 8 in a battle which had appeared utterly hopeless from a local viewpoint, but a few moments before.

It wasn't the best game ever played here from a technical standpoint; but yesterday's affair provided as many thrills as the average. Playwrights have taken advantage of the idiosyncrasy of mankind to coax considerable enjoyment from a climax and Monday the fans were treated to a made-to-order climax. It happened in the eighth. All that passed before comprised the usual first and second act of any drama, all contributing to, but not necessarily a part of the third itself.

Sells occupied the spotlight for the Twin performers during the opening numbers and finished his bit along about 5 o'clock, Moseley then entering in his place. Mr. Payne occupied a relative place for the Triplets and lasted until the eighth inning. That eighth! It was quite an inning. It will bear repeating.

With the Twins four runs behind, McDuff started the eighth with a single to center. Carter poked a blow to right and McDuff stopped at second. Shelton got his second double, back of third this time, and McDuff scored, Carter taking third.

Exit Mr. Payne. Gilliland met Trotter with a one ply hit to left and Carter scored. Shelton going to third, Lauderdale received a job in the side and strolled to first on the pass, filling the bags. Trotter got down to serious work and Nathan took Johnston's foul pop. Moseley went out the same route.

Lewis swung at one and another strike was called on him, but he met the third with a terrific swing and

UNITED STATES HAS NO INTENTION OF GIVING THE PARTY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The United States has no intention of "giving the party" when the principal powers of the world gather in Washington this coming autumn to settle disarmament and the irritating phases of the far east problem. This was made clear today when the question was put up to the state department of how the expense of the forthcoming conference are to be met.

It is the present intention of the administration that each of the participating powers will pay their own expenses. It was learned today that Secretary Hughes has notified Chas. G. Dawes, director of the budget, to include in his reckonings the cost of the conference to this government.

Estimates now are being prepared but are not sufficiently advanced to warrant guessing at figures. They must be in by August 15.

Lest it be thought, however, that the expenses incident to such a conference of world powers are of small amount, it was recalled today that the expenses of the American peace commission at Paris ran high into the millions.

WORLD'S GREATEST TENOR DIES TODAY

Enrico Caruso, Ill Long Time, Called to His Reward

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Enrico Caruso, the world's greatest tenor, died today at Naples. He had been seriously ill with peritonitis since Saturday, following an unsuccessful operation. His wife and brother were at the bedside. News of Caruso's death cast deep gloom over musical circles here today. He was 48 years old. He contracted pluriy from a bad cold in New York last winter and underwent a series of operations. At one time he was given up by his doctor and his friends bade him final farewell, but he rallied. He went to Italy to recuperate.

Word of his death was immediately cabled to friends in New York by Mrs. Caruso. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral but it is believed he will be buried near his old home in Italy.

PROMINENT MEN INVOLVED IN BIG THIEVING TRUST

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Several prominent business men of Chicago and New York are said today to be involved in a gigantic thieves trust which is alleged to have looted the United States mail and banks of millions of dollars in cash and securities during the past year.

The arrest here of John W. Worthington, who, the police say is the brains of the band and Owen Evans, said to be his assistant, revealed the fact that a blanket indictment naming 26 conspirators has been voted by the grand jury. Names of other accused in the indictments are withheld pending their arrest.

Worthington and Evans are in jail at Waukegan. According to federal officials a dozen robberies of banks and of the mails during recent months have been planned by Worthington and his assistants.

LEADERS SPLIT ON TAXATION ISSUES

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Congressional and administration leaders have split on the subject of taxation and revenue. House leaders are determined to reduce the burden of taxation, to repeal some taxes and to add no new ones. Secretary Mellon is insistent that the treasury cannot get along with less than $4,000,000,000 annually for some years and that for every tax law repealed, there must be new taxes to raise the revenue lost by the repeal. Republican leaders agree that the excess profits tax should be repealed and higher sur taxes on large incomes reduced to encourage business enterprise. Their disagreement arises over the unwillingness of congressional leaders to add new taxes to make up for lost revenue.

A running gun battle was carried on for seven miles before the Wilkersons were shot and captured. They will recover.

Their automobile and 50 gallons of whiskey was seized by the officers.

WARM WELCOME GIVEN PRESIDENT

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 2.—President Harding and his party docked here at 10:30 a. m. today, having made the run from Plymouth in a little more than 11 hours. Hordes of Portlanders had gathered along the main thoroughfare to greet the chief executive who was scheduled to make a brief speech at the public square, before leaving in a high powered motor for the run to Secretary Week's summer home at Lancaster, N. H.

ROTARY CLUB TO BE LOCATED HERE

A movement has been started in Albany for the location here of a charter of the International Rotary clubs. It became known today. Already the application for the charter has gone forward, it is said with the required number of charter members.

The absence of Governor Smith, head of the district, from Atlanta, his headquarters, has delayed action on the request, but it was expected that a representative of the Rotary clubs will come here soon for the purpose of installing the local branch.

NEARLY A MILLION IN DAMAGES ASKED OF WESTERN UNION BY STATE IN SUIT

Commission Seeks Judgment as Result of Violation of Decision

WRIT OF INJUNCTION ALSO SOUGHT BY STATE

Litigation Would Reestablish Telegraph Service to 21 Towns in Alabama

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-DeCATUR Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Aug. 2.—Suit for $914,000 was filed by the state against the Western Union Telegraph Company in the circuit court Monday afternoon as a result of the failure of the company to re-establish telegraph service to twenty-one towns on the branch lines of the Louisville and Nashville railroad after it was instructed to do so by an order of the commission dated April 30, 1920. Not only did the state request a judgment covering a penalty of two thousand dollars for every day the service was discontinued, but the circuit court was requested to issue a peremptory writ of injunction requiring the reestablishment of the service without delay.

The suit was prepared and filed by Lamar Field, assistant attorney-general, and copies were served on attorneys for the telegraph company by Sheriff John L. Scogin during the afternoon. This is a continuation of the litigation which was started when the telegraph company abandoned its service on the branch lines of the Louisville and Nashville after it lost a suit for the condemnation of the railroad's right of way for its poles and wires.

The telegraph company contends that when it lost its right to use the railroad's property it no longer was responsible for the maintenance of the service, but the public service commission contends that no public utility can abandon its service without the consent of the commission. In this case, the commission declined to grant a permit, but the telegraph company discontinued the service anyway and transferred its poles and wires to the railroad.

In filing the suit for $914,000, Assistant Attorney-General Field acted under the old public utility act which provided a penalty of two thousand dollars for every day an order of the commission was violated. The utility act of 1920 reduced this penalty to one thousand dollars, but the suit was filed under the old act.

THREE HURT WHEN TRAIN IS DERAILED

(International News Service)

DETROIT, MICH., Aug. 2.—Three persons were seriously injured and one killed when a hundred other imperilled when six cars of the Chicago-bound Michigan Central all Pullman train, leaving Detroit at 12:30 a. m. left the tracks at Inkster, near here early today. A catastrophe was narrowly averted when an east-bound train leaving Chicago at 5:40, reached the scene.

Although it brushed the side of the wreckage, it was stopped before any additional damage was done. Railroad detectives and police found that the fish plates, binding together the tracks, had been removed at the spot where the engine derailed. Two men under arrest are suspected of having attempted to wreck the train.

Reduction of Gas Rates is Opposed

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-DeCATUR Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Aug. 2.—R. I. Speer, manager of the Mobile Gas Company, and Harry T. Smith, general counsel for the company, told the Alabama public service commission Monday that the company will be unable to recoup the deficit suffered during the past few years and continue to finance its operations if the commission reduces the rate on gas as contemplated in the issuance of the citation to the company to show why the rate should not be reduced.

THE MUSCLE SHOALS ASSOCIATION

Latest reports state that very soon a finish fight is to be made at Washington to secure favorable action in behalf of the development of Muscle Shoals, along lines advocated by the Muscle Shoals Association. Engineer Waldo, of that organization said recently that some five years ago, the membership met in Nashville, and advocated the expenditure of $20,000,000 on the shoals, so as to furnish nitrates, harness the power of the great rapids and open the Tennessee river to full navigation. Not until General Pershing cabled Washington from France that delays in high explosives meant wholesale death to American boys, and that more shells must be supplied, did the government take seriously the suggestions of the Muscle Shoals Association.

When action was finally taken, not $20,000,000 but $105,000,000 was set aside to develop the Shoals. The big plans thus made for furnishing unlimited ammunition from America, disheartened the Germans and is declared on high authority to have materially shortened the war. Thus it appears that the fore-sight of the leaders of the Muscle Shoals Association worked great good for the cause of peace and for the dominance of America in the affairs of the world. It might be inquired just here, since the Association did a great public service in time of war, why cannot it be safely trusted to do another great service in time of peace? The Association was the first agency to prove to the government that the Muscle Shoals were a great asset in time of war; why should its advice not be accepted when it makes its plea at Washington? Certainly, our national government will not let anything stand in the way of the acceptance of the only plan for the development of the Shoals that has been offered, since government operation was defeated a few months ago.

The Muscle Shoals Association has made it plain to the nation, that 500 miles of navigation on the Tennessee river, is possible if the Shoals are scientifically treated. The same organization has been foremost in making its bulk large before the American people, that about 3-4 of a million H. P. is possible if the Shoals are developed. The farming interests have been taught by the spokesmen and writers of the Association of how the fertilizer trust may be broken up, and cheap nitrates furnished for their impoverished lands, by the driving of the machinery of a great nitrate plant by the power from the river falls. The Association has taught that the present contemplated developments, are but the beginning of greater plans for the Tennessee Valley and the entire country. Its leaders have kindled a lively hope in the breasts of thousands; and every section of the country is looking for new developments at the Shoals to open the way for large expansion in every line of endeavor. Have the opponents of the Association done anything for the country? Have the newspapers that have belittled the Ford offer, as backed by Mr. Worthington and the Muscle Shoals Association, as proud a war record as those whom they are now attacking? Did any of his enemies do one millionth part as much as Henry Ford, of the great task of winning the war? And can they or any of their friends get the Shoals power to where it can be used in case of another war, and would they if they had it, offer to turn such power over to the government in case of need as Mr. Ford has done? The Chicago Tribune refers to the bargain offered the government by Mr. Ford, as a "jug handle bargain." Can that newspaper produce a man or set of men, who can offer the government and the people of the nation a better bargain, if so let they do so or else forever hold their peace. Let all the opponents of Mr. Ford and the Muscle Shoals Association, either put up or shut up!

FIVE MONTHS OF HARDING

Almost five months from the day that President Harding was inaugurated, the administration issues a statement of "accomplishments," which constitutes "an achievement of the largest importance to the country."

Enumerated in the list of "accomplishments" we find a reduction of discount rates by the Federal Reserve Banks, efforts to refund the national debt, the resumption of active operation of the War Finance Corporation, efforts to finally settle the railroad problem, extension of relief to agriculture and the live stock industry, and according to the Associated Press, "various other items of the administration's financial policy."

Naturally, the people of the United States are more or less interested in what the administration has done or has failed to do.

In a message that called for tax revision and tariff revision, Congress was called together more than three months ago and told to get busy. Neither the tax law nor the tariff has been revised.

In another message that deprived the veterans of the World War of their just share of the bounty of the nation, the President found it possible to positively assert that the war crippled at least would be provided for immediately. The news of the day is replete with tales of suffering of men who fought that the Hardings might be protected in their right to hold office, and who now are face to face with actual want by reason of the administration's failure to act. The same force that was exerted to kill the soldier compensation bill is not exerted to aid the needy cripples of the great war.

An accomplishment, as we understand the word, is something that is completed. The "accomplishments" of the administration, as vouched for by a White House statement, or mere promotions.

Out of the list which the Associated Press has deemed to be worthy of reproduction, we find two that may be termed "accomplishments." The Federal Reserve Banks, in some instances, have reduced discount rates and the War Finance Corporation has been revived.

The reduction of discount rates is an "accomplishment" of which the less said the better. It was revived for a purpose and that purpose seems likely of achievement. It virtually has been turned into a central bank with a capital of two billion dollars, for which bonds will be issued to compete with the Liberty issues.

The finance corporation has been in operation since the administration entered upon its tenure of office in March. It has failed to provide the relief it promised to manufacturers or farmers.

If the railroad problem has been settled, the Government must have scored a decided "beat" on the great news agencies of the country, which failed to report the settlement.

If relief has been extended to the agricultural and live stock industries, we have yet to discover a farmer or cattle raiser who will admit it.

It was a charitable act on the part of the Associated Press to classify the other "accomplishments" of the administration as various other items of the administration's financial policy.

If the administration has a "financial policy," it has developed the art of camouflaging to perfection. If a riot of suggestions constitutes a policy, the administration possesses one.—Nashville Tennessean.

REDISCOVERY OF LOST

ART OF 'KILLING' PAIN

Less than a century ago, there were no anaesthetics such as chloroform or ether. When your ancestors had to submit to the surgeon's knife, they were strapped to the table and gagged to muffle their screams.

The University of Georgia now officially recognizes Dr. William Crawford Long as the discoverer of anaesthesia.

It claims that he performed the world's first painless surgical operation, using ether, March 30, 1842.

This will start much controversy among medical men, for the Hall of Fame in New York has bestowed the same honor on Dr. William Thomas Green Morton of Massachusetts. After experimenting on himself, Dr. Morton made his first painless operation, by ether, September 30, 1846.

Similar controversies wage around nearly all great discoveries, which usually have been the result of the work of many instead of any one individual.

The use of anaesthetics was one of the lost arts, practiced by the ancients and rediscovered by Morton or Long.

Herodotus recorded that the Scythians produced a painless state of stupefaction by using the vapor of hemp seed.

Pliny, the naturalist, who died in the year 79, wrote this about a plant called mandragora: "It has a soporific power on the faculties of those who drink it. The ordinary portion is half a cup. It is drunk against serpents and before cutting and puncturing lest it should be felt."

Surgeons 700 years ago recorded that they made operations painless by having their patients inhale the vapor of opium, hemlock, mulberry leaves and a host of other ingredients.

Americans rediscovered the process about 80 years ago—and thought they had something new.

This makes you wonder if civilization runs in circles. Chinese, according to their histories, had flying machines 22,000 years ago.

Rediscovery of a lost art, however, is as important as the original discovery.

Doctors Long and Morton saved millions from pain. Statues will be erected to them—but not many, for they merely found a way to prevent suffering.

Most of the statues are erected in honor of those who spread suffering—warriors.

We do a lot of things backward in this contradictory thing called life.—Anniston Star.

Those who keep their mouth shut and hence their feet out of it, are not necessarily wise ones.

The ability of the home team to "come back" and win, is one of its established characteristics.

In the case of charity your pocket book should be as easily touched as your heart.

There is a lot of talk about England controlling the oil out put; but we will put John D. against John Bull, the best day the latter ever saw. The American will win hands down, across the sea, or any other old way.

Men who will not make a loan, annex few friends. And those who do make loans, generally lose what few friends they lend to.

If the honorable Congress had been as bent on enriching the farmers, and opening the Tennessee river to navigation as it is on beating time and killing the same, the Wilson Dam would now be nearing completion.

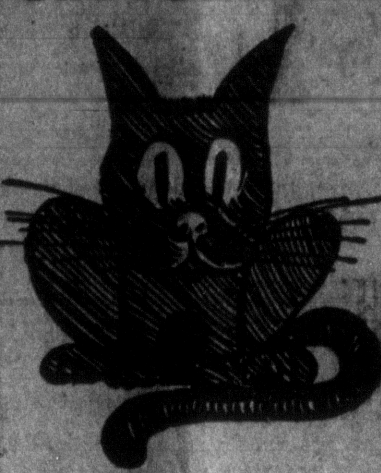

Arthur Brisbane, the great editorial writer, owes his first boost to fame, to prize fighter John J. Sullivan. John L. would not box before the late King Edward the VII, unless young Brisbane was allowed to report the mill.

The reason peace by resolution is so unpopular in America, is because we know from sad experience that the things determined by resolution seldom last.

A good sport is one who when beaten fairly, not only fails to beef, but congratulates the winner.

If there was some way to use the former war tanks against those who persist in tanking up their neighbors and themselves likewise, it would not be a bad idea.

one who can afford an operation for appendicitis."

with somebody, properly applied, would put you where you wouldn't care.

health hater of a Gotham paper that her "Feet hurt from the ankles down" whenever she goes to a dance. Help-might prove helpful.

POME

Alas, for poor Bonnie S. Lee,
Who lighted a match just to see
Where the gas pipe was leaking,
When his wife began shrieking
"Oh, bring back my Bonnie to me!"

Three weeks once meant the title of a book. Now it means how long the cook stays.

The copy books have always told us that there is no excellence without labor, and that early to bed and early to rise is the proper wheeze, and that the feller who doesn't work will end up in the poor house, mid so on and such, but we never knew a really successful man who had ever worked very hard. We have known dozens of unsuccessful men who would cheerfully talk about how hard they worked, but none who ever did it. Think over all of the successful men you know. Did any of 'em ever work?
Not!

Life is too short for most of the long speeches.

encouraging statement by an Albany

L. C. Harrison, cashier, Churchhill very satisfactory medicine and I am glad of the opportunity to endorse them. I had been suffering from a lame and painful back for some time and my kidneys acted irregularly, too.

I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being

START GERMAN
TRADE WAR ON U. S.

By W. H. ATKINS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—German trade kings are gambling their national financial security away in order to retrieve lost commercial ground in other foreign fields. This is evidenced by latest reports from Berlin to Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Utter disregard of price cutting and other German tactics, as that course may affect internal fiscal affairs, is revealed by these dispatches from American trade observers in Central Europe.

Significant of the trend in Germany is the fact that German business failures and bankruptcies are increasing.
The number of business concerns that failed this year were increased four-fold, as compared with last year.

Germany continues, upon an even larger scale than was in evidence earlier this year, the price cutting war, aided greatly by the Government subsidies to industry of all kinds. Germans are making a terrific trade drive into all parts of the world. This push of German traders, aimed to uproot competition everywhere, is going on with success, even without the aid of the big merchant fleets owned by Germany before the war.

Foreign countries are buying heavily from Germany and ignoring the goods of American and other producers, because the German quotations are so low that bidding against them is impossible. Reports today showed that millions of dollars' worth of American goods are piled up on the piers of South American ports, tied up because of cancellations of contracts covering them, while German goods of all kinds are flooding into those trade fields.

Cheap German money is a big factor in this flood of low-priced German goods. South American and other countries having depreciated currency can buy at much lower figures from German manufacturers and, besides, have a distinct advantage in the low exchange value of the German mark. Germany, aided by labor at low wages, Government subsidies and goods put out at relatively low overhead costs, is able to intensify this trade war against America, and Government officials are alarmed over its effects and the need for American protective measures.

Finger-Nail Secrets.

Those who believe that finger-nails indicate character say that red nails show a nature that likes to rule others and a disposition that is inclined to cruelty. White nails denote that their owner is fond of the opposite sex, but he or she is not strong either in constitution or in character.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, August 2. Probably the strangest studio—at least the studio in the strangest environment—in all New York is that of Albert Stewart, sculptor. No "artistic atmosphere" for Mr. Stewart! His workroom is up in the lion's house at the Zoo; with just a nice row of iron bars between him and the rightful owners of the space, who serve as his sitters. This admirer of the lines of the lion believes as thoroughly as did Michael Angelo in studying the anatomy of his subjects. Not long ago he took advantage of the death of a lioness at the zoo to dissect her in order to learn more about the construction of these great handsome animals.

One man, at least, has been as thoroughly impressed with New York's tipping mania as the most thrifty waiter could wish. George Graham is his name and he comes from a flourishing little city between Chicago and Denver. He had been in town days, and profiting by his friends' warnings and the example of those he saw about him, as well as by the inquiring attitude of everyone who served him in any capacity he had tipped theater ushers, taxi drivers, shoe-shiners and all the rest of the cheerful receivers. For the first time, then, he got on a street car, dropped his nickel into the box and handed the conductor another one. The surprised conductor finally made him understand that wasn't customary, but the Westerner is still shaking his head and insisting, "I don't see why not. I don't see any difference. You did more for men than the taxi man. The conductor opened the door while I got in."

Breath and democracy—these are the keynotes of the age—we've been taught; and Oliver Morosco has taken the lesson to heart in his selection of plays for the coming season. In the list we find, for instance, the Harvard prize play, "The Copy", getting the same consideration from its coming producer as does "Wait Till We're Married," a farce which is hardly well, in accordance with the best Cambridge traditions. In between the two manuscripts is the new musical play which celebrates, in sequel form, the adventures of "Letty." "We aim to please and play no favorites" is evidently Mr. Morosco's motto.

Gilbert T. Young, salesman for a Fifth avenue lace house objects to being known as "Miss Brown's husband." He objects so emphatically, indeed, that he has filed suit for separation, and explained the situation in his suit. He admits that "Miss Brown" is now his wife and that he realized that the fact does in a manner of speaking, make him Miss Brown's husband. But he thinks she might shift the emphasis somehow. She's too well known because of her political activities for him to keep up with her, and she ought to dim her radiance somehow so as not to overshadow her lawfully wedded husband. It irritates him, he says.

It's a good thing that this particular clerk at the marriage bureau was a slow-speaking fellow, even if he did spoil a good plot for a farce tragedy. Carmelia and Josephine D'Anna, twin sister, living at 434 Longwood avenue, were to have a double wedding. The two couples had their licenses and everything was quite all right. The bureau clerk was too officious. As he was about to perform the double ceremony, he lined the couples up with the brides next to the wrong grooms, and it was only after he had already begun to read the service that Josephine summoned up courage to tell the clerk of his mistake. Fortunately he hadn't got too far and everything was satisfactorily rearranged.

There is a hurdy-gurdy garage down in City Hall place, the only place of the kind in the city. For thirty years, on every sunny morning, the doors have opened and one by one Italians and their shawl-clad wives or daughters have trundled out their pianos ready to start on their routes. The monthly rent is $2.50 for each hurdy-gurdy.

REASSURING VIEWS ON EUROPE AS CREDIT RISK GIVEN BY BANKER

Reassuring views on the subject of Europe as a credit risk at the present time were expressed by F. O. Watts, President of the First National Bank of St. Louis, in an interview with press representatives, as he stepped ashore from the Adriatic today, on his return from the London Conference of the International Chamber of Commerce in which he held the chairmanship of the financial group.

His message is the most encouraging and stimulating word that has come out of Europe since the war. He found upon careful and wide investigation adequate guarantees in the situation for confident dealings with the countries of Europe. In illustration of the new soundness of viewpoint developing, he said:

"As one comes into contact with the financial and business men of Europe he is impressed with their desire to re-operate in the enormous task of restoring the world to a condition of normal peace and industry. They are courageously attacking and solving their problems and facing with determination and confidence the future. This attitude, in view of what these people have suffered and lost, ought to be reassuring to American business men, since it affords not only a basis of confidence for the extension of credit, but also for that increased trade and production in Europe which will revive the market for American products."

"The people are expecting large assistance from the United States in this work of restoring industry, but here is no disposition to place this assistance and co-operation and human progress."

"The situation in most European countries is growing better and in some countries marked progress is being made. England, with her world wide organization, is again rapidly resuming the normal processes of production and exchange. The coal strike is settled and progress is being made in finding a solution for her other economic and political problems. France, after her heroic struggle and staggering losses, is returning to her former industry and that marvelous thrift which has, in the past, amazed the world. In the devastated regions wonderful progress is being made. The people have returned to their destroyed villages, their trench-covered and

Doctors didn't help much. One day my neighbor told me about what Mayor's Wonderful Remedy had done for him and I got a bottle of our druggist. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. $32,000 ROBBERY IN MAILS REPORTED

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 2.—$32,000 which had been shipped by a West Palm Beach bank to the Federal Reserve bank at Atlanta, has disappeared from the postoffice at West Palm Beach, it was learned here today. Miss Lena Clarke, postmistress, is being held for examination. She is under suspicion, it was stated.

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 2.—Federal Reserve officials here today said an empty container was received here from West Palm Beach July 26. They said they knew nothing of the theft of $32,000. Postal inspectors here said they were familiar with the details of the robbery, but refused to give out any information.

Small Damage by Fire on Exchange

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Fire broke out in the New York stock exchange building this morning but was extinguished before it did serious damage. It originated from crossed electric lines behind an annunciator. The blaze burned through the wall of the building but was out before the market opened. The exchange opened at 10 o'clock but immediately suspended business until one o'clock, owing to the smoke which was still in the building.

Further Taxes on Motors Opposed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The American motorists as represented by the American Automobile Association rose up in wrath today against the proposal to lay an additional tax of $10 on automobiles. The association served notice that it plans to combat with every weapon in its power the imposition of any more taxes on automobiles.

"Motor vehicle owners now pay more taxes than any other class of individuals," said a letter from the association.

Forgot the Rules.
A Greek who had been in this country four years and heard many stories about hunting rabbits, decided he wished to go hunting. He found an American who would take him. The Greek thought it great sport. He played dog and "scared" out the rabbits and the American boy shot them. After a while the Greek wished to try his luck at shooting, so the American showed him how to handle the shotgun.

They scared up a rabbit; the Greek put the gun to his shoulder, but did not shoot.

The American exclaimed: "Why don't you shoot?"

The Greek replied: "I forgot which eye you have to squeeze."

Rope and Telephone Wires.
Rope from ships that have sailed the seven seas—that has been tied to every port in the world—ends its career by guarding the nation's telephone conversation.

From junk rope is made the high grade of paper which insulates every wire in a piece of telephone cable. Over 15,000,000 pounds of old rope were fed to the giant vats which tore, cooked, washed and beat into a pulp the makings of 7,000,000 pounds of cable paper used by the Bell Telephone system last year.

Queen Keeps Diary 50 Years.

Clear Definition.
Bessie had taken her first lesson in punctuation. On her return home from school she explained to her little brother that a period was a dot, and a comma was a period that had sprouted.—Boston Transcript.

COTTON MARKET KEEPS STRENGTH

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Although the cables made a poor response to the big upturn in the American cotton market yesterday, the local opening today was steady with first prices only 0 to 16 points lower, followed by heavy trade and commission house buying. This quickly restored the early losses and at the end of the first 15 minutes the market was firm at about last night's closing level. The South, Liverpool and Wall street sold early but New Orleans and Japanese interests were buyers.

Everything for QUALITY—nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarettey aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.
